Poetry.

Tender and True.

He stole from its nest in my golden hair
A knot of ribbon blue;
He placed on my hand a jewel rare,
And whispered soft as he held it there—
Tender and true—adieu, adieu!

The almond was bending with blossoms white,
The roses blushed through the dew;
The violet smiled in the glowing light,
And life was happy; and hope was bright,
Tender and true—adieu, adieu!

They brought my soldier home to me,
And my knot of ribbon blue:
But the cruel wound on the brow was hid
By the flag dropped over the coffin-lid,
Tender and true—adieu, adieu!

The almond flowers in the breezes shake,
The roses still blush in the dew;
But the spring-time of hope will never awake,
And the lone, lone heart will wait till it break,
Tender and true—adieu, adieu!

Selected Story.

The Story of a Woman's Life.

"Good morning, Mrs. Morton. I just run in a moment to inquire if a bit of news I have heard be true. It is too incredible for me to believe, for with all your practical ideas of life, I cannot think you would carry your peculiar notions to such a length as this."

"Pray what have I been doing now, Mrs. Ellis?" said Mrs. Morton, as she quietly arose and offered her visitor a chair. "Your words and looks are ominous. Have I committed such a breach of propriety that Madam Grandy has found it necessary to hurl her thunders of excommunication against me? Come, silence my suspense quickly;" and with a pleasant smile the lady awaited her visitor's revelation.

"Why, I am told that you have actually apprenticed Bella to a publisher, in order that she may become a compositor. Every one was talking about it last evening at Mrs. Winslow's party, and all thought it a great pity that so beautiful and accomplished a girl as Isabel Morton should be withdrawn from that society she is so well fitted to adorn, and immured within the walls of a dingy, old publishing-house, simply because her mother chooses to sacrifice her child to that Moloch of her's—work. As for me, I cannot think you are so blind to your only daughter's interests."

"Yes, it is true," said Mrs. Morton, glancing up a moment from her work, for her fingers were ever busy with something. "But I see nothing in this to create such a profound sensation. Bella is not lost to society; she will have many hours for recreation, and will thus be enabled to meet any reasonable demands society may make upon her."

"No doubt she will. Is it possible, Mrs. Morton, you do not know that you are effectually banishing your daughter from society? For, of course, much as I deplore such a state of affairs, 'our set' could never recognize a humble typesetter as one of themselves. This is all wrong, I admit, but public opinion regulates these matters, and one must drift with the current, you know. Bella has just graduated with the highest honors, and with her lovely manners and fresh young face, might command the most eligible match in the city. It is absolutely cruel to sacrifice the sweet girl in this way!"

"Well, Mrs. Ellis, I take up the gauntlet society has thrown down, and I shall fearlessly perform what I conceive to be my duty, though I am never again recognized by one of those with whom I am accustomed to associate. Out upon these aristocratic notions about work, imported from lands where despotism grinds with its iron heel the laborer and his offspring. What business have Americans harboring such ideas? It is my aim to make of Bella an independent, self-reliant woman. As to marriage, I am not at all concerned about that. The man who would scorn her hand because that hand was able to earn its fair possessor's support, I would scorn to receive into my family. It is my desire that she may grow up a noble, useful woman, fitted to reign a very queen in the hearts of husband and children, should heaven bestow such priceless gifts upon her. At the same time, I want her character to be so symmetrical that should she never meet one who appreciates her, she may cheerfully fill up this great void in her life by devoting herself to some noble pursuit. I think parents commit a grave error in not practically educating their daughters as well as their sons. In it, and not in legislation, may be found the solution to the vexed question that is now agitating our sex all over the land, and breaking in discontented murmurings everywhere."

"O, it is all very well for people to work whose necessities require it," said Mrs. Ellis; "but Bella is your only child, and will inherit your large fortune. What need has she to work?"

"Because she will be happier if she is usefully employed. Besides, the wheel of fortune is a revolving one, and though to-day we may be rolling in luxury, to-morrow may find us crushed beneath the Juggernaut of misfortune. Listen while I briefly relate the story of my early womanhood. I would I might write it as with a pen of fire upon the brain of every mother in the land! Oh, I cannot tell you what an intense interest I feel in the young girls growing up around me. My heart yearns to urge them to make a specialty of whatever their inclinations prompt them most to do, and then concentrate every effort upon that one pursuit until they excel in it. But to my story: I was the daughter of wealthy parents, the youngest child by several years, and, of course, a great pet. Of an extremely delicate organization, my kind and indulgent mother shielded me from every hardship, and I grew into womanhood a novice in the art of housekeeping. From a child I was passionately fond of reading, and at school excelled in all my studies. Pleased with the progress I made, and proud of my attainments, parents and teachers urged me forward, stimulating my ambition with words of encouragement, the most brilliant girl in Madam B—'s school, and carrying off, amid the plaudits of friends and acquaintances, the honors of my class. But, alas! I was superficial in many things, for while it had been easy for me to commit my lessons, I found it equally easy to forget them. Keenly did I feel this defect, and, in order to perfect myself, I wished, after leaving school, to teach, but so bitterly did my parents oppose that I yielded to their wishes, and returned home. I plunged into a round of gayety and amusement, and from this whirl of excitement I emerged the bride of one whom my friends did not look upon with favor. The young man was an employee in a wholesale house in the city of N. He was poor, but possessed a well-cultivated mind. Unfortunately, however, he had no chosen trade or avocation. Idleness had made me a dreamy, visionary being, and there was a sort of charm about beginning life in poverty. It would be so delightful to toil with and for him I loved so fondly. This is all very beautiful in theory, and in practice also, where there are four strong hands to perform the labor; but close application to the desk, and breathing the unwholesome city air, had seriously impaired my husband's health. We had married at a time when neither was strong enough to battle with the stern realities of life. Dependence upon the salary of a clerk or bookkeeper in a large city is very precarious for a family. It was a year of unprecedented hard times, necessitating great economy in business. Hundreds lost their situations, and my husband among the rest. Ah! then began that vain search for employment. For every vacancy there were scores of applicants, and you invariably received the answer. Persons of experience wanted. Oh! I can never forget that weary tramp, tramp, up and down the streets, jostled by a crowd as cold and heartless as the very stones under one's feet. I envied even the servant girls; but, alas! the mysteries of the cuisine were as Greek to me, and I dared not apply for so menial a situation as theirs. My poor husband was in wretched health, and almost frenzied at the thought of the misery and degredation he had brought upon me. For his sake I hid my aching heart behind a smiling face. One night after he had retired, in hanging up his coat, a vial dropped from the pocket. Picking it up, I found it labeled 'Laudanum,' and then I knew that he was beset with the terrible temptation to take his own life. Flinging the vile drug into the street, I sank on my knees, and 'O my God! lead him, not into temptation, but diliver him from evil,' was the prayer that went up from my agonized heart. How desolate I felt. In the midst of a great city, friendless, well-nigh penniless, and, worst of all, haunted with the dreadful fear that my husband would commit suicide. From the time we would separate in the morning until we met again at night I lived in a state of absolute torture. At length, despairing of finding anything in the city to do, we turned our faces countryward, feeling that our slender stock of money would last longer than in town. After many weeks of painful anxiety, my husband found a situation in a small village, with just salary enough to keep the wolf from the door. How I longed to do something to better our condition; but, alas! what could I do? I might have had a fine music class in the village, but while I played and sang very well, I was not proficient enough in music to teach it successfully. Oh, how I wished I had given the time to it I had spent on French and Latin. Many an hour of hard study had I given these branches, and of what practical advantage had they been to me? I never met any French people with whom I could converse, and had never been able to secure a class in either language, while all the while my knowledge was becoming rusty by non-use. It is painful to recur to this period of my life; I was so unhappy. I expected every day to be the last my husband would be able to attend to business. Finally, driven to desperation by our misfortunes, I resolved to do something or die in the attempt. Attached to the house we occupied was a large lot for gardening purposes, and I made up my mind that out of that bit of earth I would dig our fortunes or, at least, a living, with my own hands. I made horticulture and floraculture a study, and brushed up my knowledge of chemistry. It was hard work and small profits the first year; but having once put my hand to the plow, I never turned back. Our table was bountifully supplied with fresh vegetables and fruits, and what was better, my step had grown elastic, my eye bright, and my cheek rounded with health. My husband, too, found many a spare moment from business to help me, and in doing so found himself growing strong and well again. Oh, how happy we were! Surely there is a dignity in labor unknown to ease! How proud I felt when I received the returns from my first shipment of vegetables to the nearest market! I counted it over and over; it seemed to possess a value that I had never attached to money in the old days when father had lavished it so freely upon me. Then I would have thought nothing of spending such a paltry sum upon the trimmings of a single dress; now every penny was hoarded with miserly care, for we had resolved upon having a home of our own. Well, to be brief, each year I attempted something more—first a poultry-yard, then the culture of bees, and so on—until, before we were hardly aware of it, our home was paid for, and we in easy circumstances.

"I had carefully concealed every trace of our adversity from my parents. I think I would have died rather than have gone home—a beggar. Now that the dawn of prosperity had set in, I wrote, asking them to come and see the little silken-haired girl that, like a sunbeam, danced through our home. They came. Father, accustomed to his broad acres, was astonished at the products of my small plot of ground. He declared I was the best farmer he knew of, and should have greater scope for my powers. He bought a fine large tract of land adjoining our grounds, that happened to be for sale just then, and made me a deed for it. This is the origin of the county-seat you visited last Summer, and admired so much. Bella is a fine horticulturist and an accomplished housekeeper. Should she ever be thrown upon her own resources in the country, she could make a living, and I wish her to be equally as independent in town. We came to town to superintend her education. She thinks her forte is journalism, and desires, in addition to this, to become a practical printer. And now, can you wonder, Mrs. Ellis, after my experience, that I am trying to have her avoid the errors that well nigh made my young life a failure?"

"No, indeed, Mrs. Morton, and I honor you for it. I have been greatly benefited by the narration of your early troubles, and I think you will see the result of it in the future training of my own daughters."

A poet of the period thus begins about it: "Dolly! Dolly Varden! Is a lady's form a garden, That thou madly trail'st it o'er With a thousand vines or more!" Dolly Varden in poetry is the worst affliction yet.

Hog cholora prevails in Jackson, Raldolph and Buncombe counties to a fearful extent.

Miscellaneous.

The Press on the Cincinnati Convention.

WASTE OF TIME.

Well, the bush has been shaken, and the bird has been caught, but those who shook the bush have not caught the bird. B. Gratz Brown has not won the nomination for President, and the free traders have been utterly routed. They have not been able to put a free trade plank in the platform. The champion of protection is nominated for President. What can the free traders do? The whole proceeding has been absurd from its start, and has ended in a ridiculous nomination. It will hardly make a ripple in the calm surface of the Republican party, and the Democrats cannot be brought to its support.—Troy Daily Whig.

GREELEY AND BROWN.

The nomination of Horace Greeley and B. Gratz Brown at Cincinnati by the scheming of the politicians who, from the beginning, did the wire-pulling of the concern, was a fitting conclusion of the performance. The whole movement changes its character from the moment they take their places upon its platform of meaningless generalities. Those who started and engineered the whole bolt are cast overboard neck and heels, and the man who joined it only out of personal aggrandizement becomes its head. The Convention significantly refuse to make the nomination unanimous, and what the revenue reformers and others who opposed him so bitterly, and were treated so contemptuously, will do, remains to be seen.—Poughkeepsie Daily Eagle.

A SHAMELESS FRAUD.

Professing to be a protest against political corruption and fraud, the Cincinnati Convention was the scene of the worst corruption and most shameless frauds and bargaining ever witnessed in a National Convention. We cannot characterize it more exactly than to say it was an enlarged edition of a New York political convention, with all its machinery of tricks, devices and dickering, engineered by New York politicians and their allies for the benefit of New York politicians. The leading spirits of the movement themselves denounce the combination between Greeley and Brown as a corrupt and selfish bargain. A pig-iron Protectionist for the head of the ticket, a rampant Free Trader for its tail, and a platform that cowardly dodges the whole question of Revenue Reform, though the Convention was called mainly in its interest—such is the lame and impotent result of the "great Liberal Republican movement."—Cleaveland Herald.

A CANDIDATE FOR DESTRUCTION.

Mr. Greeley, certain talents apart, which are not requisite in the head of a great nation, has not one qualification for the Presidency. Rash, impetuous, and hot-tempered, and with no more of tact than belongs to a wild bull,—egotistical, revengeful, and inexperienced, and with thousands of enemies,—he is the very last man in the Republic whom sane men could think of making the Republic's head. He is no statesman. He is, at the very best, nothing but a common-place politician, whose life from youth upward has been passed in mere party wranglings. He knows nothing of practical statesmanship, having had no more of experience than could be found in filling a seat in Congress for one short session—in the very lees of legislation. There is, however, very little likelihood that even "Liberal Republicans" suppose it possible to add Mr. Greeley to the list of our Consulares. Why, then, is he a candidate for the Presidency? For the same reason that Mr. Birney was a candidate in 1844, and that Mr. Van Buren was a candidate in 1848, and that Mr. Filmore was a candidate in 1856. He is a candidate in the interest of destruction. —Boston Traveller.

NOT FIT FOR A PRESIDENT.

Mr. Greeley is widely known as an able editor, and he has secured many friends in all sections by his life-long devotion to Protection and Anti-Slavery. He is a great favorite with the colored people, and also with their late masters, since his offer to bail Jeff. Davis at Richmond, and his constant efforts for universal amnesty. He is also a great favorite with the women all over the couutry, because of his early advocacy of women's rights. He is likewise a very hero among the newsboys, and got on the soft side of the Mormons during his visit to Salt Lake City some years since. The truth is, Philosopher Greeley has very many friends in every section of the country, who think well of his benevolent qualities. But there is pervading distrust of his executive ability and sagacity, that, while all rather like him, very few will vote for him for President. As a German Liberal Republican said to a friend a few days since, "if elected he would be surrounded by the greatest lot of thieves that ever compassed a President."—Evening Wisconsin.

Great Britain and our "Case."

Our readers already know that we regretted the concession to Great Britain recently made by our Government, and that we rejoiced to learn that—the British Ministry having declined to meet us on the ground of compromise proposed by us—our Government has decided to withdraw its indirect proffer, and stand by its Case as originally submitted. Let us endeavor to set forth the whole matter as it now stands:

I. From the outset of our great Civil War, the governing classes in Great Britain were in open, hearty sympathy with the Rebels. Their Cabinet Ministers from time to time declared that the Confederacy could never be subdued, and that Jefferson Davis had "founded a nation." Large sums were subscribed and paid by British noblemen and capitalists to the Southern cause, ostensibly as loans, but practically as gifts in aid of the struggling Rebellion.

II. Largely favored by this unfriendly spirit, the partisans of the Confederacy hired or caused to be constructed in British ports a number of swift armed steamships, which, escaping thence by the negligence, if not the demostrable connivance, of her authorities, scoured the seas in quest of our merchant vessels, which they overhauled, plundered and burned by scores, weakening us to the extent of millions of dollars. These corsairs were armed with British guns manned by British seamen, and were, to all intents, British. Most of them had never entered a Confederate port when they began to plunder and destroy our merchantmen.

III. Our protests and remonstrances were prompt, earnest, forcible, but ineffectual. They were fruitful only in excuses. But, the War being at length over, we made our reclamation in due form, and at last a Joint High Commission assembled at Washington and framed a Treaty, whereby it was agreed that certain of our claims against Great Britain, with certain claims against us set up by her, should be referred to certain foreign potentates, who were to act by their commissioners as arbiters on these claims respectively.

IV. The United States, being plaintiff in the case of our destroyed merchantmen, made out its Case, and presented it to the British Government, by which no cavil was raised until that Case had been several weeks in its hands.

V. At length, it leaked out, or was somehow made public, that our Case embodied claims for indirect or consequential damages suffered by us through the prolongation of the War by reason of these Anglo-Rebel devastations of our foreigh commerce. No sum was named as the probable or estimated amount of our indirect damages, but it was clearly intimated they were large.

VI. The Whig Ministry of Great Britain has seen its best days. It is so shaky that any casual gust may topple it over. The Tories, hot on the scent of power, at once seized upon this claim as a lever wherewith to hurl Mr. Gladstone from office.

VII. Mr. Gladstone, thus threatened, mounted the high horse. He seemed to be surprised by the claims for indirect damages, and insisted that the Treaty gave no possible warrant for presenting them. He gave this not merely as his construction of that Treaty, but as one which no rational mind could dissent from.

VIII. Our Government has recently offered to accept or consent to a proffer from Great Britain that claims for such indirect damages shall in no case be deemed valid. In plain words, we offer to waive or abandon our claim for indirect or consequential damages in case Great Britain shall unite with us

THE INFLUENCE OF LEADERS.

The idea is very common that men who have been prominent as politicians or statesmen, are necessarily influential men, and carry a great following with them whenever they choose to change their political position. And yet no idea could be more erroneous. Men are great and prominent as politicians and statesmen, not because of their personal influence or weight, but solely because of the great public sentiment which stands behind them. So long as they think with the people, and fairly reflect the convictions of those around them they remain prominent; but as soon as they fail to do this, and turn into another path, they find themselves standing alone and without support.

Men of this class are called leaders, not because they lead the masses into following them through their personal weight and influence, but because they are impelled from behind into a forward position by the irresistable impulse of those who think and act in common. The leaders thus go with the current and are borne on by it; they do not make it, nor can they turn it from its course.

People will think and act for themselves, in spite of what any man a set of men may do. They read the papers; they digest the facts daily developed; they discuss all political questions by whatever light and intelligence they have; they make up their minds decisively on men and measures; and when they move, the men they put in front are put there solely on account of the harmony existing between them in sentiment, and not on account, as many vainly suppose, of the over-shadowing influence of those they made leaders.

Hence political "leaders" are the mere exponents of the will of the masses in harmony with them, and are not, in any sense, the creators of the opinions they are called on to represent. So long as they float with the stream they are all right; but the stream is too mighty to be turned aside by them, and flows on as placidly and as strongly as before, whenever a "leader" chooses to change position.

This was fully demonstrated in the case of DANIEL WEBSTER. We risk little in saying that he was the greatest man, in the political circles, the United States has yet produced. He was a giant in intellect, of commanding person, and magnetic in his attractive influence. He drew men to him by an almost irresistible force; and if ever there was a man who could draw off a following after him, DANIEL WEBSTER was that man. Yet when he went off from the old Whig party he took scarcely any one with him. A country school house would contain all those who clung to his political fortunes. Massachusetts almost worshipped him while he acted in common with the majority of the people, just as she has in the past clung to CHARLES SUMNER; but when he set himself against his old party, she abandoned him; and SUMNER, if he does not take the hint in time to fall in with those he has so long trained with, will experience the same result.

The point we desire to make is that it is all folly to conclude that, because a number of men heretofore prominent, have gone off with the "Liberal" Republican movement, they can carry their old party friends with them. HORACE GREELEY is by no means so great a man as DANIEL WEBSTER; and what WEBSTER could not do, GREELEY can not. The great Republican host stands unshaken and unbroken; at best, only a few captains have gone off, and these have elected a General, who may have officers enough but is utterly without an army

HORACE GREELEY.

Against HORACE GREELEY personally we have no word to say. As a journalist he has been one of the most successful in this country. He has wielded a powerful influence, has contributed more than any other one man to educate a public sentiment in favor of Freedom. But those who carefully look back over his remarkable career will find that he has always been strongest and most efficient when in the minority. He accomplishes most when working against a majority, and he does it by watching and criticising their actions, having no responsibility for the measures that may be adopted. As a leader he has never been a success. As a councellor he is neither wise nor sagacious. He has committed so many blunders that even his warmest friends trust his judgment with caution. A personal friend of his thus speaks of him:

"The crotchety structure of his mind, his vacillation of purpose, except when made persistent by passion, his tendency to extremes, his lack of courage and firmness, the violent character of his prejudices, the facility with which he may be deceived in his estimate of men and measures, the general uncertainty of his mental movements—facts that have become proverbial in the history of Mr. Greeley, especially since his course during and after the war—pre-eminently disqualified him for the complicated and responsible duties of the Presidency of the United States."

As a journalist HORACE GREELEY has few equals; as a statesman he has no experience. Constituted as he is it would be unwise to place him at the head of the affairs of this great nation.

It is stated that there are received and kept regularly on file at the American Newspaper Advertising Agency of Geo. P. Rowell & Co., New York, no less than 582 different American Daily Newspapers, 56 tri weeklies, 49 semi-weeklies, 4,662 weeklies 8, semi-monthlies and 320 monthlies, making a weekly average of over 8,500 periodicals of all kinds which are regularly filed and kept open for inspection by advertisers and others who may be interested. The visitor to New York from Oregon, Texas, Florida or Maine, can find at this establishment the local paper published at his home.

Education and intelligence are the basis of prosperity. Those nations of antiquity that lost their libertics were not protected by the general diffusion of intelligence among their people. The mission of the Republican party is to extend these blessings all over the broad country.

No man stands higher or has a stronger hold on the affections and confidence of the Republicans of North Carolinian than Hon. JOHN POOL. No man is more hated, more abused or more feared by the ultra Democracy than he. He is the lion in their path. He frustrates their schemes against the rights and best interests of the people. He is a power that must be removed and crushed before they can ever hope for triumph. But the loyal people of the old North State feel that he must be sustained. They realize that now, more than ever, is it important to keep him in the Senate. To secure this it is necessary that the very best men are selected to be our standard bearers for the Legislature. Let no mistakes be made. The United States Senatorship depends upon it.

Go into the rural districts in the country anywhere, and you will find the feeling for Grant general, or, at least, the Republicans ignorant of any candidate whom they are disposed to support against him."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

That is creditable to GRANT, in every way. The farmers are thinkers, not politicians nor place hunters. They universally recognize the prosperous condition of the country, and are willing to try the same at the wheel for another term. What say you farmers of North Carolina?

A FACT.—Gov. CALDWELL has never been defeated when a candidate before the people, while, on the other hand, Judge MERRIMAN, the Democratic candidate for Governor, has never been elected when a candidate before the people. Significant.

"CARL SCHURZ is going to Europe in June." So say the newspapers. Since the GREELEY nomination curled him up so much he takes very little interest in the subsequent proceedings. Disappointed man!

Hon. THOMAS SETTLE was nominated at Greensboro on the 15th inst., as the Republican candidate to represent the 5th District in Congress. Judge SETTLE is a man of eminent ability.

THE LADY'S FRIEND FOR JUNE.—The June number leads off with a charming picture of the heroine of the day, Dolly Varden. Here she is, in all her glory of youth and beauty. On the opposite page, a picturesque scene in Switzerland greets us. The Music is—"Some One to Weep when I am Gone." There is a profusion of stylish toilettes and fashionable hats and caps; and a pretty little sketch of Sunnyside, the romantic home of Washington Irving. Mrs. Henry Wood's novel, "Within the Maze," grows more absorbingly interesting with every number. There are also excellent stories by Daisy Ventnor and Anne L. Forcelle, and Miss Douglas begins one of her attractive serials, "An Every-day Heroine." The Fashion and Housekeeping Departments appear to be thoroughly attended to. Price, $2,00 a year. Four copies, $6. Eight copies (and one gratis) $12. "The Lady's Friend" and "The Saturday Evening Post," $4. Published by Deacon & Peterson, Philadeelphia. Single copies for sale by all News Dealers, and by the Publishers, price 20 cents.

The June number of "OLD AND NEW" completes Vol. V. The complex story of "Six of One by Half a Dozen of the Other" ends in this number, in a mingled conflagration made up of the fires of love and the burning of Chicago, very graphically described. There is an interesting account of the Brahmo Somaj, a sort of Hindoo Protestant society; a continuation of Mr. MacDonald's home-missionary novel, "The Vicar's Daughter;" a sprightly account of "Living in Germany;" and a good deal of entertaining and suggestive line-cut reading, in the Literary and Social Departments. Mr. Hale's Introduction is the most significant part of the number, for it is a terse, clear, and strong statement of the "true facts" about the much-contested "indirect damages" connected with the Alabama claims.

A mischievious muskrat bored a hole through the dam at the trout-pond of Messrs. Jewett & Co., in Fitchburg, Mass., a few days since and let some eight hundred pounds of fine trout into the brook below. For several days there was good fishing between the pond and the Nashua River, a distance of about half a mile.

A prominent Western Democrat was recently asked if he would support Greeley. He said: "I would stoop a great way way to conquer; but to stoop so far and get licked after all, wouldn't be agreeable."

LIBERAL TROUBLE.

The election of Senator Ferry in Connecticut is only a slight balm to the wounded spirit of Cincinnati adherents. The deadly wound inflicted by Hon. Dan Voorhees continues to gangrene and to threaten the life of the party so recently born of tribulations. Its sore head begins to droop and its Dolly Varden quivers with emotion at every days report of states speaking out for Grant.

The quotation which Voorhees used and which we here insert, can be multiplied by the thousand. It must become obvious that no Democrat having any regard for principle or self rerpect, and who is not an office seeker, can support a man who has repeatedly spoken of him as follows:

"Point wherever you please to an election district which you will pronounce morally rotten—given up in great part to debauchery and vice,—and that district will be found at nearly or quite every election giving a large majority for that which styles itself the Democratic party." "Take all the haunts of debauchery in the land, and you will find nine tenths of their master spirits active participants of that same Democracy."

"May it be written on my grave that I never was a follower and lived and died in nothing its debtor."

Evidences multiply that the Democracy will repudiate the Greeley ticket and substitute Davis of Illinois or Massachusetts in his stead, and the returned delegates from Cincinnati finding that the Greeley nomination has been a failure, are to day endeavoring to make combinations for selling him out. Greeley has been made a catspaw, and will find in two months hence that his nomination is as huge a joke as that of Victoria Woodhull or George Francis Train.

In the meantime the opposition is lying around loose no one knowing what to do, or what position to take such a spectacle of demeralization can not but enure to the benefit of the Republican party, which is virtually in the field to day.

AIMS OF DEMOCRATS.

Not a few of the wisest Republican observers of politics see more reason to be uneasy about seeing a Republican majority in the Senate than the election of a Republican President.

The St. Louis Republican has already recognized and pointed out the aim of many of those behind the Cincinnati movement to secure a sufficient number of Democractic votes either to elect outright, or to control the election of quasi Republicans so that they can determine the action of that House on all issues between Democracy and Republicanism.

COMMON SCHOOL PROGRESS.

The report of the State Sup't of Pub. Institution for Texas up to the end of December last has been received here. On entering upon his duties in the Spring of 1871 with hardly a school house, and no aid from any previous attempts at organization of public instruction in the state, he shows at the close of his report 63,000 children already in attendance upon public schools.

This is a great triumph for Republicanism in Texas.

THE TREATY IN THE SENATE.

The Washington Correspondent of the New York World in a special to the Balt. Sun of to-day intimates in a significant manner that malcontents in the Senate will perhaps intrigue to render the ratification of the new article of the Washington Treaty impossible. He couples with this a proposed speech of Hon. Benj. H. Butler in the House against the Treaty. The editor of the Sun had the hard sense, I am glad to say, to insert in the midst of this special this reply [The people want none of this non-sense, but a settlement fair and square—Eds.

I have only to say the man or set of men in Congress whose ambition or vindictiveness shall lead them so far away from the performance of a solemn duty to the counry at this critical time, instead of earning fame prominence or advancement will sink into the depths of infamy that there will be for any such no political resurrection. The great business and financial interests of the country in which all the people participate require no childs play over this fair and square settlement. They will crush into nothingness any little worm in the Senate Chamber that dares to interpose his brief authority to prevent a two thirds vote of that body at the demand of this great nation for peace, repose and continued prosperity.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Senate yesterday agreed to House substitute for the Morrill amendment authorizing the payment, wherever ownership is established, the net proceeds of the sale of cotton seized as confederate property after June 1865. The Secretary of the Treasury estimates the amount of this refund at a half million dollars.

The New York Herald yesterday published the correspondence relating to the additional article of the Treaty of Washington, though they refer to pending negotiations and secrecy was enjoined upon all concerned in their custody. This steahing of news is disgraceful to the patries engaged in it and to the country whose secrets are thus stolen.

A bill for the establishment of industrial homes and training schools for the orphans of soldiers who served in the late war has been agreed to by the Senate Committee or military affairs and bids fair to become a law.

George McDongal, brother to admiral McDongal died last evening from the effects of morphine taken while under the influence of liquor with the intent to commit suicide. He repented of the act when too late.

The Tennessee State Republican Convention unanimously endorsed Gen. Grant at its recent session. It is reported as harmfonious and enthusiastic.

C. M.

Congress.

On the 13th inst., in the Senate the Alabama correspondence was submitted. Mr. Casserly spoke at length on the election abuses practiced at the Mare Island Navy-Yard.——In the House. Mr. Voorhees gave his opinions on the political situation, repudiating the Cincinnati nominations. Mr. Giddings was given the contested seat from Texas.

On the 14th inst., in the Senate the bill amending the Enforcement act was passed. The President sent messages to the Senate concerning the treatment of immigrants and the persecution of the Jews in Roumania.——In the House, the day was mostly occupied in discussing the Tariff and Tax bill.

On the 15th inst., in the Senate the Conference report on the Deficiency Bill was adopted. The Baltimore and Potomac Railroad bill was discussed.——In the House, some progress was made with the Tariff and Tax bill.

On the 16th, inst., the Senate, a bill was passed authorizing the issue of U. S. bonds in lieu of those destroyed or defaced. A resolution was adopted requesting the House to return the Senate resolution fixing the day of final adjournment on May 29.——In the House, a number of bills from the Committee on Claims were disposed of. The resolution of the Senate for the return of the adjournment resolution was discussed, without result.

The Leaders of the North Carolina Democracy.

It is said that Gen. Thomas L. Clingman drew the platform adopted at Greensboro'. The General is a leader of the Democracy. He is in high favor, not witstanding he had a "set-to" with the leader of the letter "m" Democracy, and takes a front seat in the synagogue. Having endorsed the frauds of Swepson by nominating Judge Merrimon for Governor, the Democracy can afford to endorse Gen. Clingman, who was another friend and adviser of Swepson. The General swore before the Fraud Commissioners (page 227,) that he received Fifteen Thousand Dollars, probably more, from Swepson. The Democrats constituted a Democratic Committee to detect fraude and corruption, of Republicans. Lo! and behold, the Report of the Fraud Commissioners is evidence against the leaders of the Democratic party. Judge Merrimon is proven to have been Swepson's confidential friend; that he brew all the appropriation bills by which the State was robbed of millions! Gen. Clingman, a Democratic leader, trusted with the drafting of the platform at Greensboro', swears that he received more than Fifteen Thousand Dollars from Swepson. Josiah Turner, Jr., Editor of the central organ of the Democracy, was convicted by a Democracy Committee of defrauding the State out of more than Three Thousand Dollars. What a sad spectacle! Three leaders of the party which prides itself upon its honesty, stand before the people, convicted of fraud and corruption; and it must be remembered that we have introduced none but Democratic witnesses. Alas, that the party which claims all the talent, wealth, and respectability of the State, should be represented by such men!—Era.

The Union Element in North Carolina.

There is a strong and powerful Union element among the citizenship of this State. Its full strength was shown in the election of February, 1861, when the question of "Convention" or "No Convention" was submitted to the people and Convention was voted down by an overwhelming majority, and again, when Z. B. Vance, in 1862, representing the Union element at that time, was almost unanimously elected, notwithstanding his opponent, Col. Johnson a secessionist.

The natural position of this great Union element is in the ranks of the Republican party—that party which preserved the Union and rid the Southern Union men of the grinding tyranny of the Confederate despots. The Democrats, by false promises, hypocritical professions, and demagogical appeals to all their prejudices and passions, have beguiled a large part of this element into Democratic ranks. We appeal to them, these old Union men, to look back to the attempted dissolution of the Union by Democracy, and the evils wrought thereby; to scan for a moment Democratic secret conspiracy against and defamation of the Union; and, last though not least base their attempt to counterfeit the currency and depreciate the credit of the Government, and see whether it is congenial company for life-long Union men and ardent love of the Federal Government.—Republican.

How About Consistency?

The Democracy have spoken in very severe terms of the bond swindles in this State. The Sentinel was foremost in its abuse of them, but Gen. W. Swepson furnished some of that very money to pay The Sentinel for Mr. Turner!

The Sentinel has denounced Gen. Clingman for being concerned with Swepson and Littlefield in the bond swindles, and the editor of The Sentinel knocked Gen. Clingman down because he sought to defend himself about it—but Gen. Clingman built the Greensboro, platform and the editor of The Sentinel is seated on it!

The entire Democratic press of the State have shouted themselves hoarse about bribery and corruption, but Gen. Clingman swears he made fifteen thousand dollars by helping Swepson and Littlefield in their little jobs and now he is kind enough to build a platform for honest Democrats! How kind in Gen. Clingman to do it, and how very kind in the Democracy to let him do it!

Something was due Mr. Swepson after furnishing money to buy The Sentinel, and then getting soundly abused by his own paper, and so one of his confidential advisers was called on to get up a platform denouncing everything bad, and another of Swepson's and Littlefield's confidenential adviser's was given the first place on the ticket

If Mr. Swepson is not satisfied with matters as arranged at Greensboro', he is a very unreasonable man.

General Summary.

The population of North Carolina is 678,470 whites and 391,650 colored.

T. Buchanan Read, the Poet and Painter, died in New Yoak on the 12th inst.

A mulatto girl, about 16 years old, has been arrested in Charlotte and bound over in the sum of $500, for the murder of her own child.

A Grant and Caldwell Club was organized in Raleigh on Thursday evening, with M. V. B. Gilbert as President and Stewart Ellison and John C. Gorman as Vice Presidents.

Men of ... themselves happiest when others share their happiness with them.

An Irish lover remarked that it's a great pleasure to be alone, especially when your "sweetheart is wid ye."

Why is a man who marries twice like the captain of a ship? Because he has a second mate.

Why are fasionable young ladies like letters? Because, unless they have stamps the males reject them.

A young lady being asked by a rich old bachelor, "if not yourself, who would you rather be?" replied, sweetly and modestly, "Yours, truly."

A techy husband told his wife they could not agree, and must divide the house. "Very well," said she, "you take the outside."

"I am going to post office, Bob, shall I inquire for you?" "Well, yes, if you want to; but I don't think you'll find me there.

Since the introduction of coal-oil refineries along the Schuylkill and Delaware, the original fine flavor of the shad caught in these rivers has been materially injured, partaking of the rather unpalatable taste of Kerosene.

The Hon. Alfred Huger, a native of Charleston, S. C. and a conspicuous Unionist in the days of Nullification and Secession, died on Tuesday of paralysis in the 84th year of his age. He was Postmaster of Charleston from the time of President Jackson until 1865.

"Well, David, the world has prospered with you, and they say you are immensely rich," said a poor but worthy citizen to a rich acquaintance.

"Well, perhaps it is true, but we cannot take our gold with us when we go," replied David

"It would melt if you did," was the quick retort.

It is all true that Gen. Grant has been a better friend to the South than Horace Greeley ever meant to be or has been. But this is of no consequence to the Southern Democrats. They are willing to accept Greeley because they feel sure they can make the venerable farmer plow in their furrow. They presumed upon Gen. Grant's liberality, and went so far as to predict that he would "sell out the Radical party." But they found that they were mistaken. Grant is not a man whom the Sesesh Democrats can bend to suit their purpose; they want a man of softer stuff. Horace Greeley suits them.—N. Y. Standard.

It now turns out that the Mexican revolution, to which we have occasionally referred as some rumor apparently more authentic than usual has gained currency, is practically suppressed, and a detachment of troops has just reached Matamoras by sea from Vera Cruz which will shortly exterminate or frighten away the bands of marauders that infest the Rio Grande region, and make it unpleasant, if not dangerous, for the United States garrisons, keeping up at the same time the fiction of a revolutionary success. Every one knows that Mexican news is even more untrustworthy than the everage telegraphic dispatch, but it appears to be credited now in New Orleans that Diaz, the revolutionary leader, never made an effective show of resistance after a defeat which he sustained early last winter. Everywhere, except in the semi-detached territory of Yucatan, the Juarez Government has re-established its authority, using the word strictly in its Mexican sense. The case of Yucatan remains to be settled, and her independent geographical position will make it extremely difficult for the government to reduce her to terms, unless an amicable settlement is reached.

ATTENTION, OLD LINE WHIGS.—A great deal of sympathy is attempted to be worked up from the old line Whigs of the South now for the Greeley ticket. The fact is that the old line Whigs were always moderate men, and the present occasion is the one of all others which should cause them to vote for Grant, in order to avoid the extremes of Locofocoism or Tammanyism, on the one hand, and Greeley radicalism on the other hand. Grant is a moderate man—a fair man—and has admistered the laws in as mild a manner as posible to the Southern people. He has been just, generous, humane and firm, and this is all that reasonable people could expect of him. The South has no reasonable complaint to make of him; and we think their common sense would dictate to them that where they might only possibly get one that would suit them better under the present state of affairs, they are likely to get a dozen who would suit their ideas a good deal less. It seems to us that the old line Whigs with their moderate ideas could not do better than discard both radical factions and fall in with the Republican party in the support of Gen. Grant.—Norfolk Day Book.

The Chief of Rourbons, Mr. Alexander H. Stephens is out in a long editorial, bristling with italics and small caps, in which he denounces as traitorous all propositions for a coalition with the Liberal Republicans, and declares that a straight Democratic ticket is the only way to victory. He thinks it is true that Mr. Greeley did a most magnanimous act in standing bail for Mr. Davis; but in this he acted a part no more magnanimous than Gen. Grant did when he notified to Mr. Stanton, or the authorities at Washington, that he would resign his commission in the army, if Gen. Lee should be arrested, as was about to be done, in violation of the parole given him and his gallant officers on the surrender at Appomatox Court-house. The strongest objection the Democracy now can have to Gen. Grant is his execution to the letter of the measures and policies advocated and sustained by Mr. Greeley. If Mr. Greeley has ever raised his voice against either or any of the "Enforcement acts," so-called, of the Radical Centralizing Dynasty at Washington,—even the infamous Ku Klux act—we are not aware of it."

☞ TO NORTHERN VISITORS.☜ Elizabeth City is 50 miles South East of Norfolk, Va. Parties coming here from the North should take passage on the Bay line steamers which leave Baltimore at 4 P. M. every evening, and arrive at Portsmouth the next morning in time to connect with the Elizabeth City Steamers, daily.

'THIS WEEK'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

We call attention to the following new advertisements in this issue.

New York Advertisement.
The Free Plan.
Daily Newspaper.
Report.

Local and Personal.

☞ The Baptist Association is now in session here. There is a good attendance

☞ We hear rumors of mad dogs. Look to your canines.

☞ They are agitating the question of a new Academy at Rose Dale. This speaks well for the people.

☞ Hon. ASA BIGGS, of Norfolk, was in town this week. Also Hon. J W. BEASLEY and other prominent gentlemen.

☞ The "Dolly Varden" dress is described by one who don't admire it as an old fashioned window curtain thrown over a red brick wall.

☞ Gone—a number of our townsmen to the Congressional Conventions. The Republicans to Plymouth and the Democrats to Edenton. Both Conventions meet to-day.

☞ The Senatorial Conference meets here on Tuesday next. Let a strong ticket be nominated—men who can and will work, and we can redeem the district. We feel confident of this.

☞ Mr. THOS. A. SYKES will accept our thanks for a copy of the "Proceedings of the Southern States Convention of Colored Men," held in Columbia, S. C. in October last; also for a copy of the "Report of the Fraud Commission."

☞ Our Devil is in a quandary. He can't answer the question which is the oldest—Miss Ann Tiquity, old Aunty Deluvian, Miss Ann Terior, Miss Ann Cestor, Miss Ann T. Mundane, or Miss Ann T. Cedent?

☞ Our genial and whole-souled friend J. CLARK PERRY will accept our thanks for several baskets of very fine Strawberries. His vines are doing splendidly. He is shipping them to Baltimore. On Monday he picked near two thousand quarts.

☞ J. A. WOODARD, Agent of the Albemarle Steam Navigation Co., at Edenton, reports that from the 10th to 15th inst., he shipped 1960 barrels of peas to Baltimore and New York. Quite a number of barrels have been shipped from this place also.

☞ The position assumed by the NORTH CAROLINIAN has never been an equivocal one. It has positive convictions and it never hesitates to utter them. It endeavors on all occasions to speak plainly and emphatically on all subjects, and saying exactly what it means, using neither "skilled language" nor parables in giving expression to its views.

☞ Among the Northern arrivals since our last we are gratified to announce that of our esteemed old friend and acquaintance GILBERT H. FOWLER, Esq., and lady, of Fowlersville, Pa. Mr. Fowler is a prominent citizen of Central Pennsylvania, is a man of large and successful business experience and he expects to spend several weeks among us.

☞ The Republican Convention to nominate a candidate for Congress meets at Plymouth to-day. We trust its deliberations will be harmonious, that the wishes of the party from each county of the District will be heard and respected, and that a result will be arrived at that will be satisfactory. We hope to be able to announce the name of the nominee in our next issue.

☞ Curiosity impelled us a few days ago to examine the official returns made to the office of the Commissioners and we found that nearly one eighth of the taxes assessed and collected in this county is paid by the "Northern element." This settles one fact, and that is; considered in its material aspect this "element" has become an important one in our midst.

☞ The question as to whether clover, timothy and the grasses can be successfully grown in this locality has been satisfactorily demonstrated. In every instance when properly managed it has been a success. We have just mown our lot and it yielded an average of three tons to the acre.

☞ Just before going to press we received the proceedings of the Bertie County Convention. The resolutions endorse the State and National Administrations, Senator POOL and Mr. COBB. They decided to hold their Convention to nominate County officers on the 6th of June. The following is the County Executive Committee:

John W. Sessoms, Chair'n.	F. W. Bell, Sec'y
John W. Heastall,	Bryant Lee,
Wm. J. Copeland,	George Brown,
Wright Cherry,	Brawn Holly

☞ Several over sensitive Democrats take exceptions to our applying the term Ku Klax to the Democratic party. Now we submit that so long as the fact remains that every Ku Klux in the State is a Democrat; that while numerous of that Klan's chiefs are "shining lights" in the party, and since its prominent apologist and defender has been made the party's standard bearer we do not think we transcend the boundaries of truth or propriety in employing the term as we do. Of course it don't apply to the HORACE GREELEY wing of the party, but to the old Bourbons it will stick like the skirt of Nessus.

☞ The proceedings of the County Convention on Saturday were not as orderly as they should have been nor as harmonious as they would have been had wise counsel prevailed. An attempt was made to pass a resolution instructing the delegates to the Plymouth Convention. This was objected to, not because of opposition or hostility to Hon. C. L. COBB—for so far as endorsing his course in Congress is concerned the Republicans of Pasquotank are unanimous—but it was a protest against being trammeled or dictated to. A large body of the intelligent and working Republicans desired our delegates to go in a condition to act for the best interests of the party, to vote for Mr. COBB if it was ascertained that it was wisest to do so, or to vote for some one else if not. It was not because they loved the distinguished citizen of our county less, but because they loved the Republican party more. The discussions were earnest and at times excited—indeed the "noise and confusion" was so great that our friend THOMAS J. MURDEN who acted as chairman found it a little difficult to preserve good order or put motions so as to be heard. "Let us have peace."

——When we wrote the above we expected, as a matter of course, that the Secretary in charge of the papers would prepare and hand us the proceedings, but instead of doing so they were secretly pivoted in poster form at the Democratic office, with express orders to KEEP them secret in this locality until after the nomination. Is this "laboring earnestly to restore harmony?"

☞ It should be the aim and purpose of every true and earnest Republican to swell our ranks, to encourage new recruits to join us, and make as many friends as possible. But we are sorry to learn that there are a few office seekers busy just now trying to advance their own personal interests by pursuing an opposite course. Gentlemen! this won't do. Every man who accepts our principles, adopts our platform, joins our organization and casts his political fortunes with us should be recognized and treated as a political brother, and considered eligible to any office the party may feel willing to give him. The argument that "he never voted a Republican ticket" did not prevent the great Republican party of the nation from making Gen. GRANT President of the United States. They knew that he was heart and soul with them and their confidence in him has never been betrayed. Two years ago Hon. SAMUEL F. PHILLIPS had never voted a Republican ticket, and yet he was made our standard bearer in the campaign of that year and to-day he is the efficient Chairman of our Republican State Committee. With such illustrious precedents before us, and as a matter of sound policy, we insist that a cordial welcome be extended to every man who will honestly and earnestly co-operate with us in fighting the battles of Republicanism.

☞ We must have peace and harmony in the Republican party of Pasquotank county. There is only one way to accomplish it. Let the Republicans of each township have a fair and just representation and voice in our nominating Conventions. The country is dissatisfied, complaining that Elizabeth City controls the Conventions and nominations; that these occur during the busy season of the year when the farmers and laborers of the country find it inconvenient to turn out in numbers, while in cases needed to carry special points the Conventions can be crowded full from the City. Now this cause for complaint must be removed, and it can be done in a way that cannot fail to satisfy all. Let each township be represented according to its Republican vote. Let the basis of representation to each future County Convention be one delegate or vote for every fifty or fractional part of fifty Republican votes cast at the last election. It is competent for the Executive Committee to make the suggestion in its call for the approaching County Convention. This will be a peace offering; it will give satisfaction; it will promote harmony. It takes the control or management out of the hands of any clique and places it in the hands of the people. We make the suggestion in the interests of unity and peace. The party must be united. In the campaign now opening the NORTH CAROLINIAN will know no man or faction; it will work for success—labor for victory. The organ of the party, its efforts will be directed to advance the common cause.

HOW WE USED TO BE PHYSICKED.—Who does not remember the time when spring purgation was considered indispensable to summer health? No matter for wry faces, the inevitable salts and senna rhubarb, or calomel and jalap, must be administered. These "spring medicines," the youngsters were told were to keep them hale and hearty during the summer. We all know now that this was a fallacy; that new vigor, not depletion, is what is required at the commencement of the summer solstice. As a preparation for the enervating effects of oppressive summer weather, a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is highly expedient. This famous vegetable preparation has three prominent properties. It renovates, purifies, and regulates all the functions of the body. It is composed exclusively of pure vegetable productions, viz: the essential principle of Monongahela Rye, and the most efficacious tonic and alterative roots, barks, and gums known to medical botanists. Hence it is an absolutely safe medicine, and no tincture of the Pharmacopœia can compare with it for their comprehensive results. Happily for mankind, the theory that it was necessary to prostrate a patient in order to cure him, is forever exploded, and the true philosophical doctrine, that vigor is the great antagonist of disease, has taken its place. Hostetter's Bitters is an invigorant, and hence it is the proper medicine for the debilitated at this most trying season of the year.

Be sure that you obtain the genuine article, for there are innumerable counterfeits in the market. Look for the ornamental stamp, the engraved label, and the name blown into the glass. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is sold by Druggists and Dealers only.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

PHYSICIANS USE THEM IN THEIR PRACTICE. It is now universally the case that Physicians condemn what are generally known as "Patent Medicines." Although DR. TUTT'S LIVER PILLS IS NOT A PATENT MEDICINE, but its compounder, the result of study, is known only to himself, and so valuable are their valuable curative properties that very many of the first Physicians of the South and West have adopted them in their practice and recommended them to their patients.

SHELBY COUNTY, TEX., September 24, 1869.

Dr. Wm. H. Tutt:

SIR—Although I am an M. D., and naturally hostile to all "Nostrums," and "Quack Medicines," still feeling in the naked truth, I must say, from my observation, that your Liver Pills are all your representations to be, and a little more so. I find them a perfect panacea in their line.

J. F. DENIS, M.D.,

Dr. Tutt's Hair Dye Produces a Luxuriant Growth of the Hair.

A NEW BEAUTIFYING AGENT.—A Dentifrice had their origin when the Sapindus Bark of the Soap Tree was brought from the Chilian Valleys to perfect the fragrant Sozodont, the most delightful article for the teeth that a brush was ever dipped into.

CHILDREN'S LIVES SAVED FOR 50 CENTS.—Every case of Croup can be cured when best taken, by Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment. It was tested in 24 years and never a bottle refunded. It also cures Diarrhœa, Dysentery Colic, Sore Throat, Cuts, Burns and External Pains. Sold by the Druggists. Depot, 1st Park Place, New York.

VENUS herself would not have been beautiful if her complexion had been bad. If beauty is skin deep, it is necessary to secure and retain that pure clear and delicate tint instead of resorting to paints and powders, should remember that an impure, blotchy, or sallow skin is the proof of feeble digestion, torpid liver, or vitiated blood, for all which Dr. WARNER'S CALIFORNIA VEGETABLE VESPRAE BITTERS is a safe, sure, and effectual remedy.

BURNETT'S COCOAINE.—No oils, neither pomatum or alcoholic washes—foreign or domestic—can compare with Cocoaine as a HAIR DRESSING. It makes the hair glossy in the scalp—gives it new life and lustre—and renders it the "crowning glory" of both sexes, old and young.

PRATT'S ASTRAL OIL.—Safest and best illuminating Oil ever made. Does not take fire or explode, if the lamp is upset or broken. Over 150,000 families continues to use it, and no accidents of any description have occurred from it. Oil House of Charles Pratt, established 1770, 308 Pearl st., New York.

BEAUTIFUL WHITE, soft smooth, and clear skin is produced by using G. W. Laird's "Bloom of Youth." It removes tan, freckles, sunburns, and all other discolorations from the skin, leaving the complexion brilliant and beautiful. Sold at all druggists. This preparation is entirely free from any material detriment to health. MUST BE PURELY MEDICATED.—Thanks to Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, we have been relieved from sleepless nights of pain in watching with poor, suffering teething children.

FOR DYSPEPSIA. Indigestion, depression of spirits, and general debility in their various forms, also as a preventive against Fever and Ague, and other intermittent fevers. The Ferro-Phosphorated Elixir of Calisaya, made by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York, and sold by all Druggists, is the best tonic, and as a tonic for patients recovering from fever or other sickness, it has no equal.

RISLEY'S GENUINE GOLDEN BALL COLOGN WATER according to the original formula of Prevost, Paris, so long and favorably known to the customers of Haviland, Harral and Risley and their branches, for its fine permanent fragrance is now made by H. W. Risley and the trade supplied by his successors, Morgan & Risley, Wholesale Druggists, New York.

THURSTON'S IVORY PEARL TOOTH POWDER—The best article known for cleansing and preserving the teeth and gums. Sold by all Druggists. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle. F. C. Wells & Co., New York.

CARBOLIC SALVE, recommended by the leading Physicians and the President of the New York Board of Health, as the most wonderful Healing compound ever known. Gives instant relief to burns, cures all kinds of sores, cuts and wounds; and a most invaluable salve for all purposes. Sold everywhere at 25 cents. John F. Henry, sole Proprietor, 8 College Place, New York.

CHRISTADORO'S HAIR DYE is the safest and best. It corrects the bad effects of inferior dyes, while the black or brown tints it produces are identical to nature. Factory 68 Maiden Lane, New York.

SYAPNIA is Opium purified of its sickening and poisonous properties, discovered by Dr. Bigelow, Professor of Botany, Detroit Medical College. A most perfect anodyne and soothing opiate. John Farr, Chemist, New York.

AGRICULTURAL, HORTICULTURAL AND DOMESTIC MATTERS.

Home-Made Manures.

Home-made manure is a subject upon which much has been said and written, and yet it seems but little understood. Every farmer, I suppose, understands the great importance of manure to agriculture, and in writing this article, I do not propose to give any borrowed theory, or any theory, but my own, derived from actual experience and observation. I think no theory is worth much, no matter how well written, or how beautiful it may appear on paper, unless the writer has some practical knowledge of its workings, or can reduce his theory to practice, profitably.

Having said this, by way of preface, I will now say something of my experience and observation in regard to home-made manure.

I understood by home-made manure is meant just such manure as can be made on the farm without the aid of chemicals or other foreign matter. My father was one of the very first settlers in this country, and cleared and cultivated the very best land, and never used manure of any kind, only as it chanced to fall upon the land from the droppings of stock about the lots or cow-pens. I never knew him to apply one particle to any crop. When the manure would accumulate in his stables till it was in the way, he would have it thrown out in piles, and lay there and waste.

I had noticed the effects of manure in cultivating cow-pen places and near the lot and stables; and the first year I farmed for myself, I took the ox-wagon and hauled out these piles of manure that had been lying about my father's stables for years and applied in the hills of my corn with very satisfactory results. I was then on my father's place. I have been working at it every year since, more or less, but very carelessly till since the war. What little labor I had being destroyed, I was more than ever impressed with the necessity of increasing the yield per acre, and cultivating less land. I commenced being more careful with my manure; I scraped all my lots, cow-pens, corners of fences, the fence near the house and barn, and in one or two low, basin places, where water had been collected for many years. I hauled this matter thus scraped, and scattered it broadcast upon the land. I also, used all the cotton seed I had to spare broadcast, sowing them in Fall upon wheat land.

I let stable manure remain in the stable until I want it for use. I throw it from the stable on the wagon and carry it from there to the field, and take it from the wagon and scatter broadcast for wheat, put it in the row for corn or cotton, having the rows already run off; and take the manure from the wagon and apply in the row.

I had droppings from the cow taken up every morning and thrown into pens. I commenced on land that would not have made more than three to five bushels of wheat to the acre, and increased the yield to eighteen bushels and twelve pounds the third year, with a very poor stand, and wheat badly rusted I think it would have made thirty bushels that year, if there had been a good stand and no rust. I sowed in wheat three years in succession, made a crop of wheat followed with corn and peas each year, and steadily increased the yield.

I commenced on land that would not have produced more than fifty to three hundred pounds of seed cotton per acre, and brought it up to one thousand and eight hundred pounds the second year, and from fifteen hundred to over two thousand pounds the fourth year.

Now, as to the process of making manure. I know of none, after the droppings of the stock and accumulations around the yard, the ash hopper and about the lot are consumed, that will pay.

The best plan to save the stable manure is to let it remain in the stable till wanted in the field, then take it from the stable to the field; when taken from the wagon, deposit it where it is intended to remain, as it is too heavy to handle often. The best way is to cow manure is to take it up every morning and put under shelter; if it is put on the ground, it is leaching and washing away all the time, and the hogs appear to work it into the ground and destroy it. The droppings of all the stock should be gathered up every day.

Now according to my plan, you have got your manure all under cover, that is the dropping from all your stock, where the rain cannot leach it, nor the water accumulate in it to increase the labor of hauling. I will next say a little about the compost. What is the compost heap for, and what is it made of? Well, one says cotton stalks, corn stalks, leaves from the forest, any growth or weeds or brush, or decaying matter of any sort. Now, I am very much inclined to believe that will not be one single man at the North Fair that has made one dollar richer by making a compost heap out of such material as could be got about the farm, independent of the droppings of stock, cotton seed or ashes, and these materials are just as valuable, and easier to handle alone; but if these materials that you collect for the compost heap are valuable, why make them into a heap, and haul them to the field? Why not scatter them broadcast and plow them under? Making them into a heap and taking them up from there, and hauling to the field is too much labor, as the heap gains nothing while lying there, but weight. The farmer cannot afford to do labor that does not pay, and composting those heaps out of your material, and moving them two or three times, is doing too much for their value.

Another notion that prevails among farmers is to litter the lot with leaves and vegetable matter, it is said, to absorb and prevent the manure from washing off; this does not prevent the rains from leaching and carrying off the strength of the manure. One hundred loads hauled in and scattered in the lot in the fall would, probably, make five hundred loads in the spring. The labor of hauling, four hundred in the spring, for nothing, the manure left to lay on lot will lose more by leaching than will be gained by all this labor. Keep the manure gathered up every morning and put under cover, and keep all other matter directly to the field where it is intended to be used.

Another notion that prevails; is to go to the swamps and haul mud or muck to put into compost heaps. This, I think is erroneous and does not pay: hauling mud is an up-hill and heavy business, and labor. I find to be about the dearest thing that is upon the market. If there is any value in the mud, take it and apply it just where it is intended to remain. So with all other matter intended for manure, the first time it is put upon a wagon, deposit it where is is intended to stay.

I suppose I have said enough to be understood. I say that stock is the only profitable resource the farmer has for making manure. When I say stock, I mean poultry, and every living thing on the place. And I say that the best manner to save from stock is to gather up every day, and put under shelter. It may do to compost cotton with rich earth or other manure, in order to kill the seed; but the most profitable way that I have used cotton seed is to apply them broadcast in the soil on wheat, and follow, after the wheat comes off, with early corn and peas the same year. After all the droppings of stock are consumed, it is doubtful whether any composting or any work outside of that will pay as regards manuring. For instance, say take land thst will produce three to four hundred pounds of seed cotton to the acre without manure, with from $3 to $8 worth of guano, it will double the yield; take an acre that will produce four hundred pounds, and it is doubtful whether the yield can be doubled with $16 worth of labor, independent of the influence of stock.

Save, carefully, the droppings of the stock, cotton seed and ashes, and look well to the expense before you compost or litter your lot too much.—John C. Ragsdals, in So. Farm and Home.

DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE.

OF VALUABLE

NORTH CAROLINA LANDS,

FOR SALE BY

GEORGE D. POOL.

Real Estate Agent,

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

In presenting my list of lands and other properties for sale, I would say that no section of the United States offers such inducements for capitalisis and emigrants, as this section of North Carolina. In longevity and healthfulness, it will compare favorably with any where: and in easy and cheap transportation of products to market, in pleasantness of climate, in the sociability of the people, in great fertility, and durability of soil, no section can equal it.

A railroad will soon be built from Weldon, putting this place in direct communication by Rail, with the whole United States. This, together with our great fishing, farming and manufacturing interests, and certain early completion of already projected works of improvement for putting in nearer, cheaper and easier communication with the Ocean, will render this one of the most important commercial, and manufacturing points on the Southern country.

A Steam Saw and Grist Mill in the town of Nixonton 8 miles from E. City. This Mill has a fine wharf and store attached on deep navigable water, the engine is 40 horse power, and all in good order. It is one of the finest locations to be found any where for custom work, and for getting good saw logs easily and cheaply. Price $4,000 cash.

Adjoining the mill property is 40 acres of fine land on the River, with three houses, all for $1200. Near the same is a good two story dwelling and 13 acres of land for $2,000, and a good one story dwelling, with one acre of land for $300.

Also two fine farms in Pasquotaukcounty, 10 miles from E. City, within half mile of church, school house and post office. One tract contains about 400 acres, with fair buildings and mostly cleared, and the other contains 300 acres, with good two story dwelling, large barn, and other outhouses, both are offered at $20 per acre, one third cash, balance in one and two years.

Also one other tract in Pasquotank county, containing 116 acres, within one mile of the town with fine buildings, mostly cleared and in cultivation. Price $25 per acre, one half cash, balance in 12 months.

A valuable site for a hotel at Nag's Head, 40 miles from Elizabeth City, and 50 miles from Edenton. This is situated immediately on the Ocean, and is a famous Summer resort for invalids, and those seeking health, comfort, and amusements during the summer months. It is in direct communication by steamboats and railroad with all parts of North Carolina, Virginia, and the North; and is equal in natural advantages to Newport, or Cape May. Visitors flock to this famous summer resort by hundreds and thousands, and a large amount of money can be made by a hotel. A charter has been obtained from the Legislature of N. C., for a joint stock company to build the hotel. There is now an old hotel on the spot, which could be cheaply repaired and bought for $3.000. This hotel, though imperfectly kept, cleared the proprietor last season, over $3.000. For a man or a company, having some capital, this is one of the finest chances to make money at hotel keeping to be found anywhere. The early attention of the public is invited to this property.

A fine steam saw and grist mill at Hertford, the county seat of Perquimans County, N. C., 18 miles from Elizabeth City. This mill has a fifty horse power engine, now in good running, two pairs of best French burr stones, and two upright saws. The house has a brick basement, and the building is large and in good order. There is one and a half acres of land belonging to this property, and a good two story dwelling, and other out-houses. The section of country adjacent abounds in the finest yellow pine, cypress, ash, poplar, and other valuable timber. This property originally cost $15,000, and is now offered at forced sale for the low price of $3.500, $7,00, cash, and the balance in six equal instalments, six months apart each with interest.

A fine farm and fishery in same county. The farm contains 400 acres of the finest land, lies immediately on Albemarle Sound where the water is 12 miles wide, and 18 to 20 feet deep, has got buildings, and fine neighborhood. The fishery is on the farm and goes with it. It has a new seine 2,500 yards long, and all the necessary boats, buildings, &c., (which cost over $15,000 two years ago.) The fishery alone, of a good season, will make from 5 to $10,000 profit to the owner. This property is offered at forced sale for the low price of $20,000, $7,000 cash, balance on easy times.

A store at South Mills, in Camden county, 20 miles from E. City, and 20 miles from Norfolk, lying on the canal where steamers pass daily. A fine chance for merchandize. Store is large with dwelling above containing six rooms, is in first rate order, has office, kitchen, dairy, and other necessary outhouses. Goods to the amt. of $50,000 per annum can be sold here, and at large profits. A splended stand for a country retail store. Price $2,500—one third cash, balance in one and two years.

A valuable tract of land in Camden county, at South Mills, on the Dismal Swamp Canal, lying on the canal for two miles, containing over 900 acres of land—two-thirds cleared, and in a fine state of cultivation, with good buildings, &c.; balance in valuable timber. Price $12,000, one-third cash, balance in one and two years, interest from January, 1871. This is a valuable farm for corn, wheat, and vegetables, and being midway between Elizabeth City and Norfolk, and located where steamers pass by the door daily, is a desirable and cheap property.

A fine farm of 600 acres within six miles of E. City, one mile from navigable water, and the best cotton farm in the State. It is also well adapted to raising corn and wheat. This farm has a splended two-story dwelling upon it, large barn, 40 by 60 feet, a large number of outhouses, by splended trees and shrubbery, is in a strong Union neighborhood, and altogether the most desirable place in the county. A little over one-half of this land is cleared, and the balance is covered with the finest yellow pine, poplar, ash and other timber. Price $30 per acre—one-third cash, balance in one and two years with interest. Title reserved.

Sixteen houses and lots in Elizabeth City, with good dwellings, out-houses, &c. Prices and terms reasonable.

A valuable farm in Perquimans county, N. C. near navigable water. Has a fine dwelling-house with ten rooms, in splended order, with splended barns and stables—all in first rate order. The farm is very productive in corn, oats, wheat, cotton and clover. It is one of the finest farms in the State and is now in good cultivation, contains 585 acres of land, about three-fourths cleared and under cultivation. Price $10,000, one-third cash January 1, next balance in two equal annual instalments with interest at the rate of six per cent.

A farm of 370 acres 8 miles from town by water, and 12 miles by land, is offered for sale for $10,000 in easy payments. This tract of land lies immediately on the River which is 2 miles wide and washes the farm its whole length on one side, and a branch of the River one mile wide, binds it on one end. The land is well adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, peas, &c., lies high and dry, and is susceptible of the highest improvement. Fronting and looking over, as it does, two large sheets of navigable water, where steamers and sailing vessels are constantly passing, carrying freight and passengers to all parts of the country, its location and surroundings, are of the most fascinating and desirable character. There is a fishery on it ready for working a seine 2,500 yards long, and which commands a portion of both streams of water, and can be made immensely profitable. The price charged is low, and the purchase a very desirable one. The buildings consist of a good two-story dwelling and out-houses.

A desirable house and lot in the town of Elizabeth City on the corner of two principal streets, the principal one, and situated in the best business locality in the town. The lot contains about two acres of land, and the buildings consist of a fair dwelling three stories high, containing eight rooms, all in good order, another two story building with four rooms and pantries, dairy, smokehouses, stables, &c. The dwelling has a good cellar under it. There is room on the front lot to erect two good stores, and they would occupy the best stand in the town for merchandize.

A Farm of 200 acres within one mile of Elizabeth City, with good two story dwelling, large barn and stables, and all necessary outhouses, orchard of fine fruit trees, and a large number of ornamental trees and shrubbery around dwelling. This farm is on one of the most public roads in the County—is in a high state of cultivation—has fine and durable fences, &c. Altogether, it is the richest land and most desirable location, anywhere in the neighborhood of the town. Price $6000—one-half cash, balance in easy payments.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY having a large amount of Real Estate of their own to dispose of, and their business having increased to such an extent, they think it prudent to decline acting further as Commission Agents for the sale of lands belonging to others. They will however be glad at all times to furnish every facility to parties coming to Elizabeth City with a desire to look at the country and make purchases if they find it to their interest to do so.

The following list of property, owned by the Company, is offered for sale on the most reasonable terms. Their object now is to acquire a larger monied capital for the purpose of further developing their unimproved lands and carrying out their original design of increasing the Commerce and General Trade of Elizabeth City.

As there are others in the Commission Business, parties are referred to their advertisement for further information,

ELIZABETH CITY.

The following desirable list of Properties in Elizabeth City are offered at very reduced prices for cash or on time payments at rates which make any of them excellent investments for capitalists. We feel confident that this City is destined to become a large place and property will advance rapidly. Emigration is now tending Southernward and the feeling is in universal favor toward Elizabeth City.

A large two-story dwelling known as the Parsonage, with fine double Piazza, front and back, large out kitchen, stables, carriage house, with 17 acres of ground well enclosed. This ground is all within the corporation of the City, and is well situated to lay out in building lots and make out of it ten fold the price asked for it.

A two-story dwelling containing ten rooms, 10,000 gallon cistern and all necessary out-houses, with large lot. Situated on Main Street. A Vacant Lot no better located and not so large as this was sold recently for $1600 cash.

A large brick store house and wharf situate on Water street; in E. City, comprising three lots with 400 feet of water front, permanently wharfed for the accommodation of large vessels. There is erected on these lots a large two-story brick building, 50 by 80 feet, well fitted up for a wholesale or retail trade at present occupied by the "Yankee Store."

A large wood store on west side of Water street 36 by 60, two stories high, being one of the best stands on Water street for merchandizing.

A House and Lot on Riverside Avenue. House 20ft front by 50 ft deep. Containing eight rooms with Pantry and Cellar, all well finished, modern style, and having all necessary out buildings. The lot contains a front of 400 ft, and would be a good location for a large shop or foundry as one whole side fronts on the water.

Also a large number of Wharf Lots, Mill Lots and Vacant Lots at very low prices, some of which are enumerated below. The Wharf Lots are 200ft deep and will be sold to any size desired along the River. Among them are some most eligible situations for Store Houses, Mills and Manufactories of any kind as there is a fine harbor immediately in front of them, having 30ft of water, sufficient for vessels of any capacity. Along Pennsylvania Avenue are offered some of the finest and choicest lots, for dwellings in town at prices varying according to location. This will be the finest street in town, is 80 feet wide, size of Lot 100ft front by 200ft deep. There are now a number of first class residences being erected on this street. Immediately in the vicinity of these Lots the Company have erected a large Planing Mill, Sash, Blind and Door Factory at a cost of near $20,000 and also their Saw Mill at a cost of near $15,000. That now is the proper time to invest in those Lots there can be no doubt, as they will double in value in a very short time. Lots not near so good as these, are now selling in other parts of the City at more than double the price asked for these.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid Liver and Bowels, which render them of unequaled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the System in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished physiologist, there is scarcely an individual upon the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No system of Medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics, will free the system from worms like these Bitters.
